3. Sew darts on back halves and on side parts of front halves (detail 4). Press darts' depths to of back part/front part center line.
4. Sew side pockets with cutoff side-body: overstitch pocket opening with pocket bag on each front half and stitch up. Lay front half of trousers onto side part of front half, aligning pocket opening with opening marking line, and pin. Sew edges of pocket bags on wrong side of trousers. Tack pocket bags under front half, previously having cut off seam allowance (along front part center line) on right pocket bag.
5. Sew side seams, stitch up back halves along seams close to the seam.
6. Sew patch pockets with zippers: press a padding tape to wrong side of each pocket on top of pocket opening marking, width is approx. 3 cm and mark pocket opening on padding. Join facing and pocket right sides touching on top of pocket opening marked lines, pin along these lines and stitch along these lines on wrong side of the pocket. Cut facing and pocket through along between stitches, to corner tops - crosswise. Pull facing through the cut onto wrong side, serge pocket opening and press. Tack zipper under pocket opening so that zipper blade can be seen, and stitch into the edge. Press seam allowances along pocket edges onto wrong side. Pin pocket onto trousers' half along coinciding lines and topstitch.
7. Sew leg seams.
8. Insert one half into another, right side to right side, and sew middle seam up to zipper slit marker.
9. Zipper. Press one-piece zipper facings onto wrong side: on the right - along center line of the front, on the left - leaving around 1 cm to center line of the front (= seam allowance for zipper). Stitch zipper under the edge of closure seam allowance (left side) into the edge, placing zipper blade close to the fold. Pin the slit, aligning center lines of the front. Stitch free tape of zipper to the facing of right side of the closure, without catching the fabric of front half. Stitch up right front half of trousers along closure according to markers, catching the facing.
10. Neaten the tape for belt loops up to the width of 1.5 cm, stitch up and cut into 5 equal parts. Tack belt loops to top edges of halves: in front - near princess seams, aback - near darts seams and above back center seam.
11. Stitch belt to top edge of trousers, leaving seam allowance for belt closure overhanging the edge of trousers closure allowance at 3 cm. Fold belt along and neaten along front edges. Turn inner half of the belt inside and tack above connecting seam. Stitch up the belt from right side of trousers along contour into the edge.
12. Turn belt loops upwards, turn inside and topstitch along top edge of the belt.
13. Pierce eyelets on front and back halves downwards near side seams, underlaying folded cloth on wrong side. Cut elastic cord in half. Press hem seam allowance of each half onto wrong side, put a piece of cord under the hem, pull ends of the cord out through the eyelets. Turn hem and topstitch according to markers. Put border onto ends of the cord.
14. Serge a buttonhole on right end of the belt.
